PNKF dues for 1994/1995 are due in to the PNKF Treasurer October 8. Please remember that to be eligible to participate in PNKF and KFUSA sponsored or affiliated events, one MUST be an up-to-date member of PNKF. This includes Promotional Exams and Tournaments. FURYU, THE BUDO JOURNAL OF CLASSICAL JAPANESE MARTIAL ARTS AND CULTURE

This wonderful new publication is now in its second incredible issue. Published by the head instructor of the Hawaii Classical Martial Arts Club, Wayne Muromoto, this is the first journal we have seen that has the real flavor and simplicity and warmth of "just practicing" the plain and straight martial arts and ways we love. For the small subscription price you get a BIG magazine that's getting bigger... 68 pages in the first issue, 80 pages in the second! (And to think we had been worrying about how Muromoto Sensei could possibly continue to maintain the same high standards as the first great issue...!!) Every page has lots of illustrations and in-depth information on all aspects of our favorite subject, from Budo roots and old warrior tales, to etiquette, mythology (for example, a fascinating treatment of Tengu in issue 2), great stuff in BOTH of the first two issues on women in the martial arts and ways.... you name it! Each issue has several feature articles highlighting particular martial arts and ways, and profiling outstanding dojo and their teachers, plus book and media reviews. There are no ads for red silk gi (although there ARE fascinating ads for things you'd really find interesting) in this comfortable, down-home yet gritty, practical, and very inspiring journal. Like the best martial artists, it takes its subject pretty seriously, but it does not take ITSELF too seriously, so that the voice that comes through here is extremely good-natured, wise, humble, and very witty and humorous, too. The scholarship is solid, the insight penetrating, but it goes down as easy as Hawaiian slack-key. In short, it makes your Editor VERY happy, and he could not believe it when the second issue was even better than the first! Please order it from: Tengu Press, P.O. Box 61637, Honolulu, Hawaii 96839. $30/six issues.
