THE LAST WORD

"Apparent confusion is a product of good order; apparent cowardice, of courage; apparent weakness, of strength. Concealing order behind what seems to be confusion depends on calculation; courage behind cowardice on technique; and strength behind weakness on form. Thus those skilled at making the enemy move do so by creating a situation to which he must conform; they entice him with something he is certain to take, and with lures of ostensible profit they await him in strength." --Sonshi, Heiho.
